U. N. Endorses U. S. Plan For Talks

India Bows Out Before Voting Begins

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly squashed Russian opposition yesterday and approved 43-5 an American plan limiting the U. N. side of the Korean peace conference to countries which sent troops to Korea, plus the Republic of Korea.

India bowed out as a possible participant in a last-minute gesture of harmony. The Soviet Union indicated the Russians would attend by accepting a Western resolution to invite them if the Communist side desists it.

India bowed out as a possible participant in a last-minute gesture of harmony. The Soviet Union indicated the Russians would attend by accepting a Western resolution to invite them if the Communist side desists it.

Thus the Korean peace conference, called for under the Korean armistice signed a month ago, could include a maximum of 17 countries on the U. N. side and Red China, North Korea and the Soviet Union on the Communist side.

Some delegates pointed out the Communists have the right to invite other countries beside the Soviet Union. They speculated the Communists might invite Poland and Czechoslovakia, who were proposed for membership in a 15-nation conference suggested by Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky and twice batted down in Assembly hall.

The letter said that all conductors on all railroads would not be called out simultaneously. Delahunt was instructed to be in readiness in the event the Chicago and North Western Railroad is chosen for initial action in the walk-out.

A resolution cited in the letter was adopted in Chicago by the ORC executive committee, authorizing Hughes to "withdraw men from the service beginning Sept. 10."

A copy of the resolution has been forwarded to the National Mediation Board in Washington.

Hughes was authorized by the executive committee to determine what railroad lines should be struck first.

The letter said also that the ORC was prepared to consider the expanding of the strike until an agreement is reached regarding a graduated rate of pay for conductors.

They appeared to be in good physical condition and jaunty spirits.

Most of the first arrivals were sergeants and all were Army with the exception of one lone Marine master sergeant.

"Yowie," yelled one man, "we're home."

"Thirty seven — months," shouted another. Apparently he was taken prisoner in the first month of the war.

Arrival of the non-commissioned officers indicated the Reds were clearing out Camp 4 at Pyoktong near the Manchurian border where they had been segregated from enlisted men.

Today's exchange movement involved 145 Americans, 250 South Koreans, 3 Turks and 2 Australians, a total of 400.

Just before the balloting began, India's V. K. Krishna Menon, a center of a disagreement between the United States and British Commonwealth members, bowed out of the picture with a request that a resolution to invite India should not be put to a vote.

The resolution as approved also gave final Assembly approval to the armistice; reaffirmed that the U. N. objective in Korea is the achievement by peaceful means of a unified, independent and democratic Korea, and welcomed the peace conference.

Sewage Funds Plan Studied

Harrisburg, Pa. The State Sanitary Water Board yesterday considered a plan of giving municipalities, with completed sewage treatment plants, top priority in distributing state aid in the commonwealth's huge stream cleanup program.

This will serve as an incentive to those municipalities which have not started their construction or are slow in carrying it through," said Dr. Russell E. Teague, secretary of health and chairman of the board.

The 1953 Legislature appropriated two million dollars to aid municipalities in building sewage disposal plants, with a stipulation that distribution of the fund would start July 1, 1954.

U. S. Doubles Guard

Casablanca, Morocco, (AP)—U. S. military authorities have doubled the guards around three American jet and fighter bases in this turbulent French protectorate where fanatical Nationalists still threaten widespread terrorism and sabotage.

He proposes that elevated expressways be built over railroad tracks. Or, he says, surface expressways could be built on railroad rights-of-way adjacent to existing tracks, or in place of tracks moved underground.

Crimmins, Ford director of dealer relations and business management, made such proposals yesterday in a talk at a meeting here of the National Project-Adequate Roads Committee.

Crimmins said he had talked over the idea with officials of the New York Central and Chesapeake and Ohio Railroads in Detroit and found them "very favorably inclined" toward it.

He noted that Detroit's expressway system is costing $800,000 a mile to build, a "fantastic" price.

Crimmins said elevated expressways over railroads would have good routes which fan out from downtown areas to residential sections. Costly condemnation and destruction of property, excavation for depressed roads and relocation of sewers and public utilities would be eliminated.

The routes have been officially surveyed, the curves are flat and the grades are invariably the best available," he said.

'Snow Removal' Sign Put Into Use On Hot Day

ORC Calls Rail Strike September 10

Paterson, N. J. (AP)—Although the thermometer read an even 100 degrees yesterday, this sign appeared on Ellison St.:

"No parking. Snow removal."

The Board of Public Works explained it had run short of the correct type of signs to indicate that road construction work was under way.

An ORC spokesman confirmed the strike here. One aide of President T. O. Hughes, in Chicago, also announced the strike action.

At Clinton, Iowa, the Herald said details of the strike plan were stated in a letter by Hughes to Steve Delahunt, Clinton local chairman.

The letter said that all conductors on all railroads would not be called out simultaneously. Delahunt was instructed to be in readiness in the event the Chicago and North Western Railroad is chosen for initial action in the walk-out.

A resolution cited in the letter was adopted in Chicago by the ORC executive committee, authorizing Hughes to "withdraw men from the service beginning Sept. 10."

A copy of the resolution has been forwarded to the National Mediation Board in Washington.

Hughes was authorized by the executive committee to determine what railroad lines should be struck first.

The letter said also that the ORC was prepared to consider the expanding of the strike until an agreement is reached regarding a graduated rate of pay for conductors.

For several years, the ORC has been seeking a graduated rate of pay. This means that the bigger the engine the more the conductor's pay.

James Paddock, assistant to Hughes, said a strike would be on a "general basis" and he did not know which railroads would be affected.

He said the difference with the railroads concerned rates of pay, and that conductors had lost their relative position in the pay rate structure.

The conductor now finds himself below the fireman, who is subordinate to him," he said.

Delahunt emphasized that the strike will in no way interfere with the handling and transportation of any war materials or supplies, nor troop trains, hospital or milk trains.

Labor Leader Slain; Cop Kills Gunman

New York, (AP) A labor leader was shot to death in a Bronx apartment building late yesterday and a short time later a policeman killed a fleeing man believed to have done the slaying.

Thomas E. Lewis, president of Local 32E, AFL Building Service Employees International Union, was indicted on three counts of perjury yesterday in connection with his sworn denial he was a Communist.

A warrant was issued for Gold's arrest and the Justice Department said it would move that he be held in $10,000 bail.

An assistant district attorney asked if he thought Ryan killed Lewis because of a personal grudge to do so, told reporters:

"We are sure he did not kill Mr. Lewis of his own volition."

Police said Lewis recently had been attempting to unionize employees of hotels and resorts in the Catskill mountains.

Gold Indicted For Perjury

Washington, (AP) Ben Gold, Russian-born president of the International Fur Workers Union, was indicted on three counts of perjury yesterday in connection with his sworn denial he was a Communist.

Police later identified the dead assailant as Edward "Snakes" Ryan, 46, and described him as a "notorious cop hater" with a long criminal record.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—I Timothy 3:1-13; 4:6-16; 5:21-22; II Timothy 3:14-17.

By Newman Campbell

Similar to last week's lesson on prayer is the subject of Bible reading. We hear the Scriptures read frequently in church. We may often read them in our homes. Do we always think and meditate on what we hear read or read to ourselves?

On the other hand, the Bible is probably the most quoted book in the Christian world. Almost automatically, when certain circumstances arise, we find ourselves quoting the beautiful words of the Scriptures that are appropriate to them. Men and women serving in the armed services probably read their Bibles more now than ever before in their lives.

When St. Paul wrote the epistle to Timothy he was very near his martyrdom. They were his last written words, and we can imagine how Timothy treasured them in his mind and heart.

"Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example to them that believe in word, in manner of life, in love, in faith, in purity."

Till I come, give heed to reading, to exhortation, to teaching. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee to be used for all things, having promise of the life which now is and of that which is to come.

"For to this end we labor and strive, because we have our hope set on the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of them that believe. These things command and teach."

Teachers, preachers, all leaders in religion will find it helpful to read this advice to the young Timothy, who was assured to:

"Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example to them that believe in word, in manner of life, in love, in faith, in purity."

Till I come, give heed to reading, to exhortation, to teaching. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee to be used for all things, having promise of the life which now is and of that which is to come.

"Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy progress may be manifest unto all."

The children here might be reminded of the parable of the talents. Even small children have their own talents, and they should be shown how to develop them. Young ministers of the gospel are often timid of expressing their views, especially before a congregation of whom are much older. Paul's words should encourage them.

"And that from a babe thou has known the sacred writings which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus."

"Every scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for instruction which is in righteousness."

The Bible stories, the moral lessons and the many beautiful passages from the Scriptures are easily understood and will be remembered by children. All their lives they will be influenced by them and be the better for having learned them while they were young, as was Timothy.

MEMORY VERSE:—"Neglect not the gift that is in thee . . . Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy progress may be manifest unto all."—I Timothy 4:14, 15.

Lastly Paul advises Timothy of the proper qualifications important for the leaders of the congregation—the bishop, the elders, the deacons. Timothy himself became bishop of Ephesus, the head of the church.

MEMORY VERSE:—"Neglect

not the gift that is in thee . . . Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy progress may be manifest unto all."—I Timothy 4:14, 15.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Return to Faith

If the rise in church membership is any criterion at all, the people of the United States are returning to the faith of their fathers in impressive numbers.

In 1952, more than three and a half million new members were taken into the many church membership lists. The remarkable thing about this increase was that it was two and a half times the population increase of the same period.

Fifty nine per cent of the U. S. population now belong to a church. While this percentage is large, it does show how far we have to go before we reach the sought after 100 per cent.

One of the great bulwarks of the strength of our nation has been its faith. Protestants, Catholics and Jews have displayed a drive and a purpose never before seen on this planet and a growth which even today seems remarkable.

During this present period of stress, which the future obscured by atomic power aimed primarily at destruction, faith must rise in proportion to the threat.

That the inherent weakness of a slave state is its lack of solidifying religion is well known. On the other hand it is just as true that our religious faith is one of our points of national strength and purpose.

Much must be done before we can be complacent about the advances in our church memberships, the rise in the number of churches. But the future is the brighter for the increases we have made, and they make the job of full participation in religion seem not impossible.

Due Process of Law

Two speakers at the 75th anniversary sessions of the American Bar Association outlined without equivocation essential challenges confronting the legal fraternity in relationship to the national future.

One stressed the urgency of the need for the profession to purge itself of Communist-sympathizing lawyers whose philosophies were in diametric opposition to those of our country, while the other vehemently declared the justice of the peace system a major "anachronism in American jurisprudence."

Former United States Senator O'Conor of Maryland let go with both barrels on the danger of permitting lawyers who openly champion the Red cause to shield themselves behind membership in the honorable and respected bar associations of the land.

Declaring the peace of the entire world is menaced as long as Communism is its present potent force, O'Conor expressed his belief that in the contest for survival of constitutional government the bar must recognize its unique responsibility and so rid itself of those who bore from within.

Publisher Palmer Hoyt, of Denver, equally pungent in his statements, said that "tobacco juice justice and dime store tyrants" operate from the authority of the American bench in police and traffic courts of the nation, and that our country should not expose its millions of citizens to such treatment.

With the findings of these two men we are in thorough agreement. It must be obvious to any thinking citizen that the law is our shield, and that if it is weakened by the inclusion of those hostile to our concept of freedom the nation is doubly endangered.

First national dog show in the United States was held in New York City in May, 1872.

Certain primitive African tribes cut off the fingers of their enemies to preserve them as war trophies.

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

The Hit Parade Rodgers & Hammerstein's Week in New York is at hand August 31 to September 6 . . . and this should mean some relief for people who haven't been able to get tickets to their shows . . . they can at least see Rodgers and Hammerstein's South Pacific.

We favor a big parade but give fair warning that great caution will be needed in planning the line of march . . . There is a plot to put this in the hands of a certain man who has never yet been able to get a pair to "South Pacific" and you can imagine why, as master of the parades, he could tell them where to go.

We suggest the following parade formation:

Section I—Oldest living survivors of "Oklahoma's" first night performance. Critics (in complete disguise) who on opening night said it was Theater Guild house opera and have been eating their words ever since.

Section II—Americans who succeeded in getting good seats to "South Pacific," "The King & I," "Oklahoma," etc., without help from the President, the U. S. Congress or any local political group. Americans who succeeded in getting seats good, bad or indifferent.

Section III—Elio Pinza Chorus & Marching Club.

Section IV—Strangers from across crowded rooms.

Section V—Delegates from St. Louis, Calif. and the Old West.

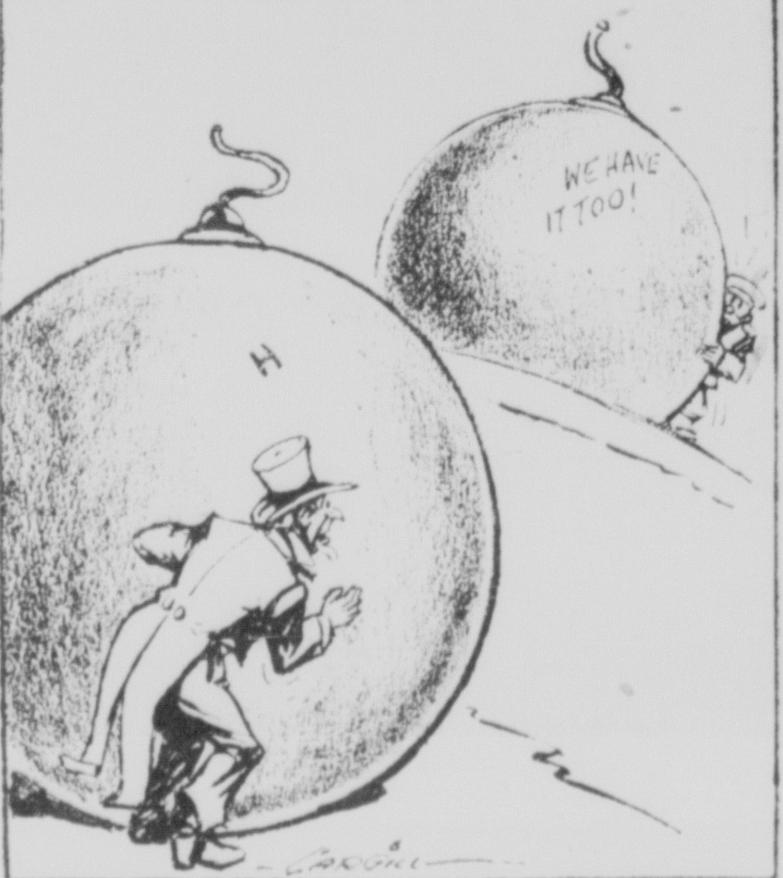

Section VI—Decorated boat representing the Five Great Fortunes of America, those of Rockefeller, Morgan, Vanderbilt, Whitney and R. H. Wan-

Section VII—Mr. Hammerstein in a golden coach with the diamonds on top. Mr. Rodgers on a jeweled palanquin borne by a delegation from the U. S. Mint, with honor guard from the treasury.

Section VIII—Rodgers & Hammerstein cashiers, assistant cashiers, treasures, deputy treasures, bankers and economic advisors.

Section IX—Open hacks bearing agents of Europe and Asia

PLEASANT DREAMS, KIDDIES

Robert S. Allen Reports

Reds Test Hydrogen Device Rather Than New Weapon

Washington President Eisenhower has received another report that completes quite a detailed picture on what happened at that recent Russian hydrogen explosion.

The Reds tested a hydrogen "device" and not a practical weapon. This device is of the same category as the one exploded by the U. S. at Eniwetok more than 15 months ago.

This big difference in time is of the supremest importance, because it means the U. S. has that much of a lead on the Russians in this fateful race.

Another momentous difference is in the magnitude between the two tested devices. The Reds was not equal to that of the U. S., whose destructive power was several hundred times greater than the Hiroshima-type A-bomb, that was equivalent to more than 30,000 tons of TNT.

The U. S. now knows how to construct a practical hydrogen bomb. It still has to be tested, probably next spring. But the basic production problems have been solved.

Russia has not perfected a feasible hydrogen weapon. But American authorities are proceeding on the sound concept that the Reds are capable of producing this cataclysmic armament.

In one atomic field, Russian operations are still largely unknown to U. S. experts.

This is in the all-important development of electric power by atomic energy.

American uncertainty about what the Reds have accomplished in this sphere was disclosed by Dr. Lawrence Halfstad, chief of research development of the Atomic Energy Commission, at a meeting of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee.

Following is the unpublished record of this significant discussion:

"Do you have any idea what the Russians are doing in atomic power?"

"We have very little information," replied Halfstad. "They came out with a propaganda article saying they are emphasizing the civilian aspects of nuclear energy, but we have essentially no data as to what they are doing or have accomplished in this line."

"You haven't seen anything in their technical magazines that would indicate any development?"

"No, none at all."

"What about the British?" What are they doing in this field?"

"The British are doing a great deal and one of their main goals is the development of nuclear power," said Halfstad. "They are pushing this very hard and are definitely getting somewhere on this line."

"We hope in time isn't coming when a baseball player will refuse to steal second until he confers with counsel . . ."

"The British are doing a great deal and one of their main goals is the development of nuclear power," said Halfstad. "They are pushing this very hard and are definitely getting somewhere on this line."

Greene-Dreher Fair Judges Select Winners From 1,624 Entries

14 Divisions Represented In Competition

Newfoundland — Judges looked over a total 1,624 entries in 14 major project divisions at Greene-Dreher's 37th annual fair yesterday.

Announcement of winning entries provided the principal interest for fairgoers during the day. Residents of Pike, Wayne and Monroe County border areas were represented in the competition.

Severely handicapped by drought conditions farmers still brought 457 entries into the farm crops division. Baked goods entries numbered 250, there were 220 entries in the flower division while housewives entered 221 items in assorted jellies, jams and preserves.

Missing from competition this year for the first time in the fair's 37-year history were entries in the "cattle" and "vocation-cattle" contests.

An outbreak of brucellosis better known as "Bang's disease" brought unsettled conditions to dairy and beef cattle raisers in the area.

Interest in other competitions, however, helped make up for the loss of the two divisions. Throughout the afternoon, housewives and children repeatedly peeked through the doors of the main exhibition building where rows of angel cakes, pickles, pumpkins and parsnips awaited blue ribbons.

Doors to the exhibition hall were opened shortly after 2 p. m.

In its second day, the Greene-Dreher fair provided the perfect opportunity for a favorite fairtime activity — reminiscence. Oldtimers gathered in the shade of the main school building and gymnasium to talk over past fairs (they seemed bigger and better) and past times whatever happened to . . . ?

Some of the younger set seemed to fall right in step with their elders.

At 1 p. m. a tall, lanky, blond young girl in a bathing suit turned to a short bracelet and said: "Well, he gave me a solid gold basketball on a chain. And a pin. If you can call that anything."

For the children, the fair was a reminder, once more, that school was near.

A young Newfoundland boy, teaching his sister to ride the crossbar of his bicycle as a mode of double-travel for school, took a spill in the middle of the schoolyard.

Sister, he said, had stuck her foot in the wheel-spokes. Sister began to cry. "I couldn't help it," she said.

"Okay," her youthful instructor replied. "Now, don't cry. But don't let it happen again."

Following is the list of prize winners released by judges following close of competition yesterday:

Farm Crops

Emil Schoenagel, of Greenpoint, was acclaimed top farmer of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling area yesterday in competition which saw Schoenagel walk off with 13 first awards for individual entries.

All in all, Schoenagel had a total of 29 items entered in the fair farm crops competition. Of these, 23 items won top awards.

In addition to his 13 first prizes, Schoenagel won seven seconds and three thirds.

Two other area residents proved their abilities with garden and farm implements by taking away a large number of the prizes offered.

They were Lloyd Carlton who won 11 first awards, two seconds and a third to prove himself an expert at the business of working the soil and Bill Wilder, with nine first awards, one second to his credit.

Other prizes were awarded on the following basis:

Shirley Butler, three thirds; Friend Bartleson, one first, three seconds, one third; Emma Walters, two firsts, three seconds; Virginia Rohrbacker, three firsts, two seconds; Leah Gilby, two firsts, three seconds, two thirds; Leah Martin, one first; Jerry McLain, one first; Myrtle Waltz, one second; Donald Smith, one first; E. There were 220 individual entries. No shrinking violets, they faced zinnia after zinnia as the occasion rose; delivered verdicts early in the afternoon.

Honors Given Nonagenarian On Natal Day

Morning, afternoon and night, on Friday, friends gathered and gifts were showered on Mrs. Ann Frederick, Delaware Water Gap, who passed her 91st natal anniversary on that occasion. Mrs. Frederick resides with her daughter, widow of the late Charles Rapp, popular chief burgess of Delaware Water Gap and successful baker for many years and the Rapp home was the Mecca for callers on this occasion.

Mrs. Frederick has come to be regarded as the grand old lady of Delaware Water Gap and her birthday was recognized by friends from near and far, who sent her a veritable shower of birthday cards.

Mrs. George Hay called and presented the aged hostess with a bouquet of gladioli and Mrs. Bennett Straight's gift was a plant. She received five other bouquets, many gifts of candy and a great variety of handkerchiefs.

Guests called both before and after the birthday. Among them were her brother Herman Lambert and wife of Easton, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Good of Asheville, N. C., formerly of Delaware Water Gap, her four nieces, daughters of Elmer Lambert, Mrs. Robert Decker and Mrs. Ray Pensy of East Stroudsburg, Mrs. Esther Ford and Mrs. Anna Wiseman of Stroudsburg, Mrs. Frederick's brother Thomas Lambert and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Frederick of Deal, Maryland and their son, Douglass.

The festive day was brought to a close last night with a lawn picnic in Mrs. Frederick's honor, on the premises of Mr. and Mrs. George Brockman of Fostontown Hill.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Barrett, the team that recently made public its intentions to withdraw from the Pocono Mountains League at the end of the present campaign, would like one and all to know that it plans to complete the present season, except for a replay of the Tannersville contest. Some entries in the circuit were under the impression that Barrett wasn't going to go through with its remaining games, but the current first division club has every intention of playing all contests except the one listed above.

Quakertown scored one touchdown in last night's scrimmage with East Stroudsburg High School, at Memorial Stadium. The Cavaliers used plenty of players, giving at least two full teams a good workout. East Stroudsburg threatened but failed to cross the Quakertown goal. Mike Palomino, Eastburg lineman, was hit just above the right eye with an elbow in a practice session on Thursday and required two stitches to close the wound.

Both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High gridders are losing excess weight rapidly this season with the help of the current hot spell. East Stroudsburg State Teachers College launches its pre-season football drills on Monday, with two practice sessions listed each day. Dick Transue, an end for East Stroudsburg High last year, is another local candidate for the ESSC grid machine this season. The Analogous resident is the end who caught a pass and raced for the winning touch down against Stroudsburg High last Thanksgiving Day.

A report reveals that Don Gage, pitcher for International Boiler Works, walked something like 40 batters in four innings last night as Square Bar scored a 23-2 softball victory. The contest was halted after four innings by darkness. Two games between Lake Harmony and Kunkletown, one on each field, during the next two weeks will decide the pennant winner in the Pocono Mountains League. Kunkletown will be shooting for its third straight crown, while Lake Harmony is after its first title.

The Eagles departed for their Keystone Amateur Softball Association Tournament games in Lancaster last night. The club left from in front of the Eagles at approximately 6 p.m. and probably will return some time tomorrow. The club is slated to go into action for the first time today at 9 a.m. The Monroe County Softball League meeting originally slated for Monday will be held Tuesday instead, at the home of Jack Mullins, 514 Brown St., Stroudsburg. Dick Latrell, former football center at ESSC, is now head grid coach at Cape May Court High School in New Jersey.

Clint Cramer's play at shortstop for the East Stroudsburg diamond contingent at the Stroudsburg Little League field was outstanding on Thursday. Even the wild throw in the last inning came after the youngster had made a sparkling play on a hard hit ground ball. The play of Evan Reese in center field was outstanding and it will be some time before we forget that home run belted by Ronnie Metzgar. But the overall play of the Stroudsburg club, right down to the array of pinch hitters and runners in the last inning, was just too much for the Eastburg club.

Stroudsburg came from a 3-1 deficit to win in the last inning with a three-run outburst. Gene "Silent" Hairston, highly successful Negro middleweight fighter, recently passed through Stroudsburg and surrounding localities on a visit to Scranton. The reason Shaffer's Inn and Union Printers didn't play softball on Thursday was that no uniforms and no bases were available. Both teams were reportedly on the scene and ready for the action to begin.

Irvin Must Produce Soon To Win National Loop Bat Title

New York, 48—Monte Irvin's next four times at bat may be the most important ones in the career of the New York Giants' slugging left fielder.

With a .338 batting average, Irvin is in second place in the race for the National League batting championship. But he's been out of action since August 9, when he again injured his right ankle in a game at St. Louis, except for occasional pinch hitting chores. If now appears he may not play regularly again this season.

All teams in the circuit must complete regular season games on or before Sunday, September 13.

Barrett Ordered To Play Tannersville

League Officers' Make Ruling At Special Meeting

Reeders — Officials of the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, at a special meeting here at Reeders Inn last night ordered Barrett to play its rescheduled game with Tannersville or to forfeit its position in the post-season playoffs, providing the club finishes among the top four clubs in the final standings.

Barrett recently announced that it would play its remaining games on the schedule, except the one with Tannersville, and then would withdraw from the league.

Tannersville scored a 2-1 victory over Barrett recently, but was found guilty of using an ineligible player in Alden "Red" Fetherman and was forced to pay a fine and forfeit the game.

The league, at a special meeting at the Polopeco Hotel, Elizabethtown, reinstated all so-called ineligible players and ordered the Tannersville-Barrett game replayed. This meeting was held Monday, July 27.

Similar action was taken at the Monday, August 27 meeting held at Tannersville Inn. Action in each case approved by the league membership.

John Wernett, secretary of the league, announced last night that the Barrett representative at each meeting went along with the favorable vote on the measure.

Attendance

Those officers in attendance last night included Clint Getz, president; Harry Jansen, first vice president; Clarence Smith, second vice president; M. N. Warner, treasurer, and Wernett.

Officials also revealed that all playoff series will be judged on a best two-out-of-three basis. The first round will feature the first and third place clubs in one series and the second and fourth place finishers in the other half of the opening round.

The first games of each initial round playoff will be played on the home field of the team highest in the final standings. Second games will be played on the low club's grounds. A flip of a coin will decide the fields to be used if a third game is necessary.

All teams in the circuit must complete regular season games on or before Sunday, September 13.

Standings

Lake Harmony Plays Host To Kunkletown In Major Contest

One of the most important Pocono Mountains League baseball games of the current campaign will be played tomorrow, when second place Kunkletown plays at Lake Harmony, home of the number one contingent in the present standings.

Kunkletown, shooting for its third straight pennant, is only one full length behind the pace setting Lake Harmony club and a victory tomorrow would put Kunkletown into a first place tie. Lake Harmony's banner is after its first pennant since entering the circuit.

Another single game on tomorrow's agenda will find Reeders, currently the number four team in the stands, battling Bushkill, on the latter's home field.

The final single game will send Pocono Lake and West End A. C. into battle, at Gilbert.

Saylorsburg and Barrett clash in an important doubleheader at Barrett.

Another doubleheader will send Anthoekum against Tannersville, on the latter's Pocono High School field. Tannersville is in fifth place at present and Anthoekum is number nine in the standings.

Each of the opening games in the doubleheaders will begin at 1 p.m., while each of the single contests gets under way at 2 p.m.

Shawnee-on-Delaware — The eighth annual Bill Waite Memorial Golf Tournament, which brings together some of the country's leading amateur players, as well as most of the outstanding seniors, will be played at Shawnee Inn and Country Club here on September 8 to 12.

Plans completed by Fred Waring, who instituted the tournament in memory of Bill Waite, a former business associate, include a larger field in the qualifying rounds than has participated in any other Waite tournament.

The tournament, divided into two classes, the Bill Waite Registers and the Old Masters—will qualify 16 teams for the four best ball half of partners play in each of the 1953 sections. Qualifiers in the Bill Waite Regulars division will play for the Bill Waite Bowl, while qualifiers in the Old Masters division will play for the Fred Waring Bowl.

Other Trophies

Other trophies to be competed for are the Manhawkin Trophy for the second 16 teams in the Bill Waite Regulars, and the Willie Norton Trophy for the second 16 in the Old Masters division.

Howard Everett, Atlantic City, recipient of the award.

Retailers To Gather For Discussion Of New Sales Tax Law

All Merchants Invited To Meet Monday

All retailers of Monroe County are invited by the Stroudsburg Business Men's Association to attend a meeting to be held in the Penn-Stroud Hotel ballroom Monday at 7:30 p.m., when matters pertaining to the new Pennsylvania sales tax will be discussed.

The discussions will include a brief resume of the sales tax law, which becomes effective on Sept. 1, an outline of items taxable, and proposed methods on how to apply the sales tax in various individual businesses.

S. M. Monatt, local CPA and tax consultant, will explain details of the tax law and give the retailers advice on its application.

The Stroudsburg Business Men's Association, in arranging this meeting, wishes it to be known that all retailers of Monroe County are welcome to attend, whether or not they belong to the association.

Harrisburg. (AP) An "emergency" cash order prompted awarding of a contract without calling for bids for installation of an accounting system for the Revenue Department's new sales tax division. Secretary Otto F. Messner said yesterday.

"We'll be under emergency conditions until Nov. 20 when the first sales tax returns will be filed," Messner told a newsman.

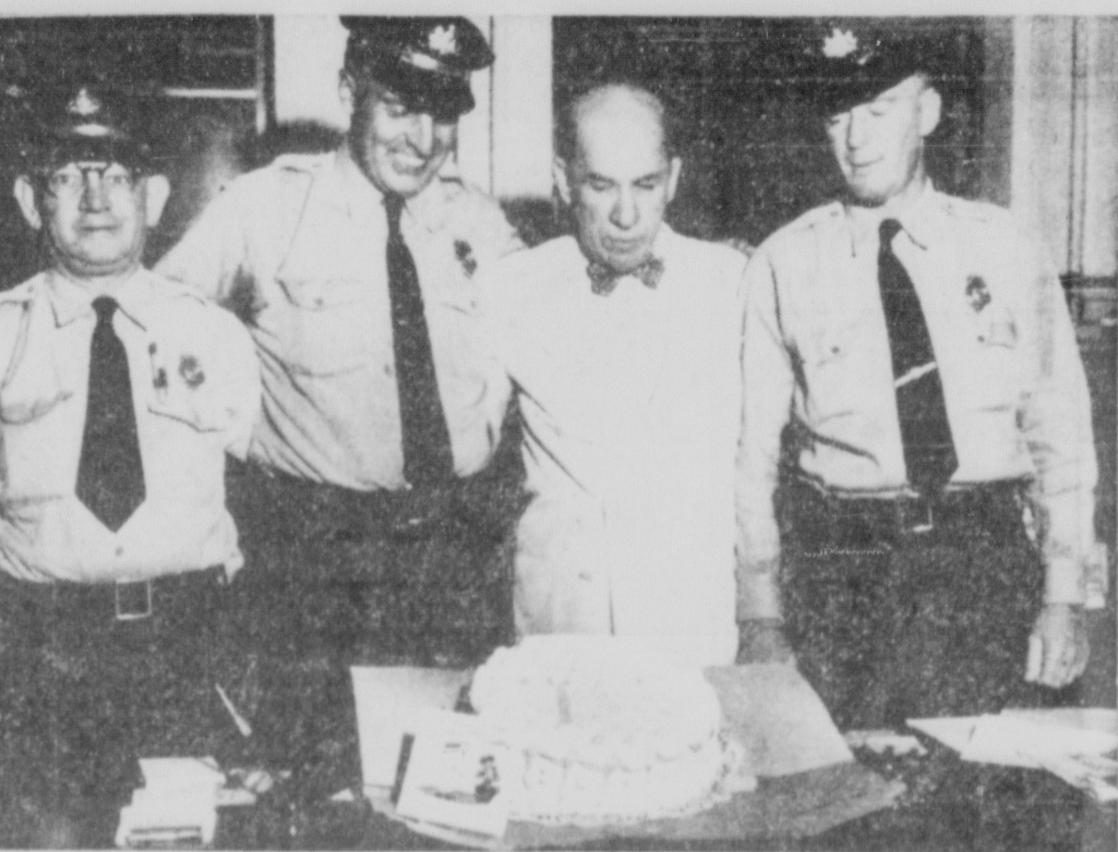

The contract went to Remington Rand, Inc. It calls for supplying business machines and special cards and records for registration for retailers reporting the state's new sales tax which becomes effective next Tuesday.

Training of Revenue Department employees also is included in the Remington contract.

The secretary said that advertising for bids normally required in the letting of state contracts was reverted with the "full and absolute approval of the Justice Department."

Messner said he could not set any figure on the total cost to the state of having Remington Rand install the system. Rental of the machinery, however, will be $845 monthly.

Red Cross To Purchase Respirator

Milford — Pike County Red Cross directors have voted to purchase an emergency respirator for installation in fire department equipment now used for rescue work.

At a recent meeting held at Tom Quick Inn, the board heard a plea from fire department members for purchase of the equipment. The respirator is used in fire cases where regular lung action is impaired.

The board also heard a request from its first aid committee for purchase of a "resuscitator" used to empty lungs of water and induce regular breathing in water rescue work for stations at Lake Wallenpaupack.

No action was taken on the latter proposal.

FINE FIGURE OF A MAN was Dan'l Boone—so said Rev. Frank H. Blatt of Stroudsburg in his address before Pocono Forestry Association last night at Delaware Water Gap House. Dressed in frontiersman-type style musket used in Boone's era, with ram's horn loader and leather costume, including coonskin cap and deerskin coat, Blatt carried flint-powder pouch slung over shoulder. J. H. Kunkle, forestry leader, holds lantern in hand, ready for possible attack by Indians.
